Foci of the project work:

- possible roles for partners in community-school collaboration:*
What are the roles of different partners within collaborative framework? How do stakeholders envision their contribution to joint actions? Is it possible to shift or change roles?
- the idea of regional thinking and possible collaborative frameworks on different scales: village, small city and capital city:*
How is partnership perceived in different contexts? What tools can support collaboration and mutual learning in different contexts and at different levels?
- communication techniques and organisation patterns:*
How can collaborative structures be established, maintained and empowered within multi-stakeholder networks? What is the advantage of coexistence of different logics within the same network?
- collaboration patterns and algorithms:*
How do the collaboration patterns or the development history influence collaborative structures and different school-community collaboration networks?
